It has an elevation of 1311 metres (4273 feet). History The mountain was originally called " " (great mound), but after 1055 when a local high official, Han Zheng (), asked to be buried beneath it, it was renamed to " " because " " (i.e. Han Zheng) buried there was considered by the locals to be sacred. References Category:Mountains of HunanWe're a few months into a new year, and possibly the new decade, and all it takes is for some people (like me) to get to the point where we can't help but look back at some of the more memorable moments from the previous year. For me, "memorable moments" have a lot to do with how I view the world. Stories of achievements, babies born, and even deaths are all easy to associate with moments in time. However, when I speak of "memorable moments" in my own life, I'm talking about the really big ones. The ones that you can remember in some way forever. When a dream comes true, or
